Note from the Pastor:

This Sign Is Not Just For You... or Me

There's a 'Reader Board'—or some might call it 'A Sign'—that's visible outside Northwood Presbyterian Church. And if you've driven by and wondered about the words which are changed from week-to-week, I hope you will bear with me... Some may consider them cryptic and unclear. Others may become frustrated in the way that we're frustrated with a puzzle-piece that doesn't seem to fit. And still others may simply ignore anything that appears on a church sign as irrelevant to their lives. I beg to differ—and I do mean to beg!

If those of you reading into this second paragraph are at all familiar with the parables of Jesus, you know that the words, images and symbolism he employs often require a second or third perusal. They are not like rules or instructions or how-to manuals—meant to explain something useful. When Jesus utters a parable, it's not as if he's posting traffic signals to make sure pedestrians and car-commuters can co-exist on the road. What he's doing is confusing. Of course! There is always an element of surprise, reversal or bewilderment. And his hearers very often wander away either shrugging their shoulders or shaking their heads. Even the disciples are notoriously uncomprehending (see Mark 4:13 and 34).

Nevertheless, Jesus keeps at it. Can we? Consider, as a confounding example, the Parable of the Dishonest Steward, which concludes in Luke 16:9 with the words: “Make friends for yourselves by means of dishonest wealth, so that when it is gone, they may welcome you into the eternal homes.” Now, if you weren't invited to think differently and deeply, you might say that Jesus has proposed something extremely unethical, or that he's lost his moral scruples. Or... if such a series of syllables happened to be brandished across a Reader Board, you might become curious and suspect that there's MORE than meets the eye or more than the average intellect of the average transactional brain can comprehend.

Now, while I do not even pretend to be as creative or as clever as Jesus, I do believe the sign associated with this congregation can do more than just say, 'Come & Join Us!' or 'Everyone's

Welcome! On the contrary, it can imitate the dynamics of a parable and potentially move a person to a position of malleable receptivity. (It can. It might not. It might not ever.)

Let's face up to the cultural conundrum. Words bombard us in so many ways—and more often than not, their intention is to manipulate, control or cajole us into a certain behavior. I read a recent opinion piece in the New York Times, which noted how a prominent politician frequently concludes his Truth Social posts with “THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION TO THIS MATTER”—and we know where we've heard that before. We've seen it on legal notices, threatening law suits or punitive action if there's no compliance. By contrast, I'm suggesting that a community of faith ought to counteract such passive-aggressive rhetoric with phrases that are playfully befuddling, and that may lead to a transformational and grace-filled break-through.

And now, for those who just want me to say, “GOD LOVES YOU”, in all capital letters, I've just done that. But no sign from the Holy Spirit can just be for you... or for me... Can it, Mary Ann?

Peace~

Scott

Lent Begins February 18

ASH WEDNESDAY

“... you are dust, and to dust you shall return.” —Genesis 3:19

Northwood Presbyterian Church will be combining with the members and friends of other Presbyterian churches in the various neighborhoods to participate in a service of worship for Ash Wednesday.

These congregations include Knox, Shadle Park, Lidgerwood, Bethany and perhaps others.

Ash Wednesday marks the beginning of a mysterious journey toward the redeeming presence of God in human suffering... our suffering and our mortality. The Season of Lent, which begins on that day and lasts for seven weeks, will culminate on Good Friday, and is meant to train our thoughts and emotions in the ways of humble, servant-relationships.

Hope to see the cross-shaped ash in the crevices of your foreheads when you make the holy choice to attend and to pray together with our siblings.

Peace in Christ!

The service of worship for Ash Wednesday will take place on Wednesday, February 18, 6:30 p.m.
